Thank you:

In truth my deputation will be based on the flaws I see in both concepts. Also my suggestion to make each option more acceptable, successful and palatable. I do have my opinion but since I do not have the final say but, council does, does it truly have any bearing on the outcome of councils deliberation? I will gladly state I like the 4 ward model but with the caveat that I reject the additional at-large positions. I have no plan for a power point as a component.

Hope that is sufficient.
